FS: Custom Iron Snake, Salamander, Soul Drinker Shoulder Pads

Hello guys,

Myself and a friend have started a small enterprise. He sculpts shoulder pads for chapters that you never see, making shoulder pads for (as well as many custom designs) and we have them cast in pewter! We have done our research and spoken to lawyers and stayed away from direct copies of GW Intellectual Property. That is why you won't see GW Salamander Icons or direct reproductions on our work. So we are legit and plan to stay that way! These are pewter and the rhino parts are resin. These are not identical to any published icons out there, a bit generic, but similar that you should be able to use them with little problem.

Prices:
$1.00 for any pads (if you buy 50 or more of a type you get them for .85 each)
$17.50 for rhino kits
1.50 for the salamander Hammer or Powerclaw

Notice we have Terminator and Power Armor pads for each type

We have a Salamander head (or dragon head), its very 3D and sells well:

Salamander Hammer and Power Claw:

We also have a rhino armor and door kit:
Next up is our newer snake or Iron Snakes shoulder pad line, we've taken the Greek idea and added chains on the edges of the pads.

Last but not least is our Chalice pad that can be used as soul drinkers or even blood angels second founding chapter:

StarFox or Space Wolf founding:

We also have a flaming fist and a "I" pod that can be used as the Squad 1 or "I" for imperial or inquisition.
We can do custom designs, but there is a cost for the time to sculpt and mold creation.
Anyone serious about custom chapter pads, you can expect to spend about $130 for the sculpting, the mold making and then you have to pay for the pads themselves.

If this becomes a business, I am already talking with Lin about sponsoring (we don't even have a website yet though). Brown is the best...

Please feel free to email me with any questions and order request- droppads@verizon.net

Thanks!

Nick

Just posting to say that the pictures don't do justice as to the quality and awesomeness of these. Nick is a great guy as well and terrific to deal with.

Is each shoulderpad a single piece of plastic/resin/whatever? I'm seriously thinking of picking up some of these for a project.

Each pad is a single pewter piece, there is very little flash or mold lines. I would almost say you can use these straight from us without any filing or other modifications, just paint up.

We can just about sculpt anything that isn't done by another company already. Check my bartertown references [HERE].
